

Every woman deserves bold, beautiful and natural looking eyelashes. Step out with confidence and style.

Original wonderbra girl Beulah Grant from Sussex, knows when its time to give your natural assets a little help. Right now it seems the biggest thing in the beauty world are lash extensions, all the celebrities have them and now they have become available to everyone. Beulah who now works on shows such as 'This morning programme and the live fashion shows on sky qvc shopping channel, she has become well known in London and has some high profile clients from Arab royalty to Chelsea socialites.

Beulah will travel to a clients home for an 1 1/2 hour treatment.

Some of my clients often like to match their lashes with a particular colour outfit, so I apply a few flashes of colour in the lashes.

Because extensions are low maintenance and high impact, the treatment is particularly popular with brides. They give a more natural romantic look, than false lashes and they will last for the duration of the honeymoon or holiday and longer with no maintenance, only two rules to remember: No oily make up remover and no rubbing, that's it, even swimming won't budge them so they are perfect for beach holidays and hot climates.

They really give you the wow factor - you get masses more attention when you're wearing them, they're definitely here to stay. Prices start from £70 full set Infills start £20 Outer corners £40

Non-Surgical Treatments

dermal fillers are often concerned they will look 'different' after treatment. Let me reassure you I pride myself in promoting natural results, my gentle, carefully planned treatments enhance you without drawing attention to yourself. (If you want noticeable treatments, I can do that too!) The products I use are superior, and offer the most natural results possible. Softening facial lines using Restylane natural filler (over 11 million treatments worldwide), improving the texture, glow and radiance of the skin (using chemical peels or the very popular Dermaroller) can improve confidence. If you suffer with embarrassing underarm sweating, I can also alleviate this to ensure you enjoy the day without being concerned about visible perspiration patches when you deliver your speech or toast the bride and groom. Also by injecting very small amounts of a muscle relaxant, frown lines can soften and even disappear. Most of us like to express our emotions and feel it's an important part of our character. However after time these lines resemble scars and are noticeable even when the face is at rest.
